

SHOUT!

By Phillip George and Peter Charles Morris

Green Girl: (reading magazine) According to this survey, "73% of women experience some form of anxiety when severing relations with men." (laughs and tosses magazine aside) I don't care what the studies say, breaking up is NOT hard to do. I do it all the time. The trick is knowing what method to use on what bloke. If 'e's the Cambridge and Oxford type, be rational. (sweetly) "It's not you, love. It's me. You're port wine and pate, and I'm meat pies and ale. It would never work. No, don't speak. Just go." (speaking normally again) See what I mean? But if 'e's one of those East End blokes, an all-out attack works best. (hysterical) "You're shagging that tart, aren't you! (mimes throwing something) Don't you lie to me! I saw you give 'er the eye! I can't take this any more! It's tearing me apart!" And 'e's out the door before the poor blighter knows what 'it 'im. Now breaking up with those sweet sensitive chaps is a bit trickier. It's best to just come right out with it and lie. (melodramatic) "The doctor says six months as most. (coughs) It'll be a painful, messy death. I couldn't put you through it. Pray for me. (coughs)" Oh, and if 'e's American, just get fat. 'E'll break up with you.
